TROPICO AS A MANUFACTURING CENTER

The Western Art Tile Works, the Los Angeles Basket Co., Tropico Manufacturing Co., Marple Tile and Mantle Co., Tropico Paint Co., and Others

As the years and months go by it is becoming very noticeable that Tropico is gradually growing into a busy manufacturing center. When the capitalist, wishing to embark in some kind of manufacturing enterprise, passes through Tropico, he sees at a glance that this is an ideal place for him to locate, and he does not pass the place by.

It is very conveniently situated to the railroads and to Los Angeles, the leading business center in Southern California. In addition to these advantages, Tropico has very favorable access to San Pedro, from where the manufacturers can, at a very low rate of expense, ship their wares to many of the northern cities by boat.

It is really remarkable how the manufacturing interests of Tropico have grown. Four years ago any one passing through this section could have seen nothing in the way of manufacturies except the Western Art Tile Co., which was known at that time as the Kirkham Art Tile Co. Later the name of the concern was changed to the Pacific Art Tile Co. and afterward again changed to the Western Art Tile Co., as it is now known.

From the beginning up to the present time the manufacture of tile at this factory has been gradually perfected until at present under the superintendence of Mr. F. H. Wilde of Glendale, formerly of Trenton, N. J., the goods turned out at this place are of the finest quality and will stand the most rigid comparison with those produced at any of the eastern tile works. The manufacture of first-class tile is something that cannot be perfected in a month or a year, but takes considerable longer and the progress made at this works is very gratifying.

The manufacture of tile—the kind and quality made here—necessitates the mixing together of many different kinds of clays, flint, felspar and other materials. These different materials are brought to Tropico from different parts of the United States and England. The vitrified clay is brought from Kentucky, while various other kinds of clay are brought from the company's mines in Elsinore, California. Felspar and ground flint are brought from Connecticut and the main standby—Ball clay—is brought from England.

When it is taken into consideration how much expert knowledge and skill is necessary for the manufacture of these tile, it will be understood why so much time is required to bring these tile to a degree of perfection which must necessarily be reached before the tile can be put on the market.

The Western Art Tile Co. find a market for their tile in many of the eastern states, but the large portion of the product of this concern is sold in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other northern cities.

In the way of building up the town the Western Art Tile Co. has done much. At the present time it finds employment for between 25 and 50 people.

The Los Angeles Box Co., which is owned and under the management of Henry P. Thornton of Los Angeles, is one of the leading concerns in Tropico. Previous to coming to Tropico, Mr. Thornton for several years conducted a number of box factories in Los Angeles, but becoming interested in Tropico land and seeing that this would be an ideal spot for his factory, he decided to move his establishment to this place. The various small box factories in Los Angeles were shut down and an immense establishment, which covers about ten acres, was erected here. The buildings are located just east of the Southern Pacific tracks and at the foot of Cypress street, directly opposite the Western Art Tile Co.

The plant consists of five buildings, all frame structures, and the entire grounds are surrounded by a five-foot wire fence.

On entering the grounds the first building we see is a cosy little office where the business of the company is transacted. From there we go to the large building which is known as the basket room, where, at the height of the season, about 200 girls are employed in making berry and fruit baskets. The majority of the girls are quite expert at the work and make as many as 2,000 of the common strawberry baskets in a single day. The wage of the experienced basket maker will range from $1.75 and $2.50 per day.

The next building to the north of the basket room is the sawing and slicing department. In this room the lumber is cut into the required lengths and, after being assorted, the blocks are put in the slicer, where they are sliced down to the required thickness for the baskets and, after being bent, are loaded on trucks and taken to the basket room. Men are employed exclusively to work the slicers, while the benders in this department are all girls, who number between twenty or thirty.

Just to the east of this room is the machine room, where all the machinery for the supply of the entire works is manufactured. The style of this machinery is a closely-guarded secret, and no one but the employees are allowed in this department.

At the southern end of the grounds is located the immense storeroom where hundreds of crates of different kinds of baskets are stored and are taken when necessary to fill the demand during the winter season.

During the busy season at this factory between 250 and 300 people are employed, but at the present time only about half of that number are kept busy. Most of the girls that work at this place come from Los Angeles, and a large number of these girls have been in the employ of Mr. Thornton for the past four or five years. During the busy season it is possible for any girl in this valley to secure work at this factory.

Through the past season the San Fernando Valley Berry Growers' Association and the independent growers of the valley were furnished with berry baskets by this company; also, the markets in Los Angeles were big buyers of this company. Many thousands of crates of berry and fruit baskets are shipped each year from this factory to Fresno, Sacramento and many of the other northern sites as far north as Yakima and Spokane, Washington.

Mr. Thornton gets most of his lumber direct from the immense forests in Northern Washington, and it consists almost entirely of spruce. It is brought by boat to San Pedro and is shipped by the carload direct to the Tropico plant.

Located at the intersection of the Southern Pacific railroad tracks and Tropico avenue is the Tropico Manufacturing Co., under the ownership and management of William M. Mathewson. This company has been doing business at the same stand for the past two years, and has a reputation of being strictly honest and fair in all their business dealings.

At this establishment are manufactured: Sash, doors, windows, etc., also store fixtures. All kind of band sawing is done there, and everything for the artistic inside finish of the modern home is manufactured.

The plant is complete with a large sticker, planer, a rip saw, band saw and two first-class sanders. All of the machinery is run by a 25-horse power gasoline engine. At the present time Mr. Mathewson employs three people and the plant resembles very much a busy bee hive with the hands always on the hustle.

The manager tells us that almost all of the work of the company comes from this valley, considerable patronage coming from Burbank. The lumber is bought in carload lots and is shipped direct to the mill.

The Marple Tile and Mantel Co. has been conducting business from the company's works and storeroom which is located on the western side of the Southern Pacific tracks and just south of Park avenue: This company manufactures everything in the good mantel line besides artistically tinting all kinds of floor, wall, hearth and mantel tile. The establishment is fitted up with a first-class decorating shop and at the south end of the building is located a large brick kiln in which the tile are fired after being decorated. The company does all their own wood turning. The concern is about two years old.

The most recent addition to the Tropico manufacturing establishments is the Tropico Paint Company. This company also has its plant near the Southern Pacific tracks, and is just north of Park avenue. Mr. J. M. Armstrong is superintendent of the manufacturing of the paint and does all the mixing. He is an old-time paint man, having had years in the paint and mining business.

The company makes all kinds of roof and house paint and also has one of the finest grades of marine paint it is possible to make. They own several acres of minerals which they use in making their paints. Their mines are located in Ventura and San Bernardino. They also manufacture a good roof tile and a fine grade of chalk.

It is the intention of the company to do a wholesale business almost exclusively.

In the near future the company will greatly enlarge their plant and will make it at least three times as large as the present building. The machinery in this plant, which is run by a 20-horse power engine, consists of a mixer, finisher, grinder, bolter, and in fact everything necessary to make paint in first-class style.

The officers and directors of the company are:

C. E. Shuey, president; J. E. Shuey, secretary; T. B. Hawkins, J. M. Armstrong.

One of the busiest and most wide-awake business establishments in the valley is the Tropico Lumber Yard, which is situated near the Southern Pacific tracks on Tropico avenue. Mr. John Hobbs, who is manager and proprietor of the yard, is one of the most popular men in this part of the country. It is Mr. Hobbs' policy to apply the golden rule in all of his business transactions, and in all his dealings the people of this valley have found him to be strictly honest and fair. He has resided in this valley for 18 years.

Mr. Hobbs has been owner and has charge of this lumber yard for the past year and a half. During that time over a million and a half feet of lumber have been sold from the yard. This is on the average of over 100,000 feet each month. The company employs three men and has two wagons busy all the time hauling lumber to all parts of the valley. One rule of the company is to give every order—no matter how small—prompt attention and delivery.

Besides lumber, the company handles lime, cement, alpine and the best grade of roofing paper. The manager is also agent for the Pittsburg perfect wire poultry fence.

In a few years Tropico, with its many advantages, will undoubtedly develop into one of the leading manufacturing centers in Southern California.

THE GLENDALE STUDY CLUB.

A delayed report of the Glendale Study Club is at hand and reads as follows:

The Glendale Study Club held a very pleasant session at the residence of Mrs. Brooks. Papers were read on "The Old Province House of Boston" and the life of King George III. A very delightful feature of the afternoon was the interspersion of several selections of music. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Brooks on Mary street, Sept. 17.

At the meeting held in the home of Mrs. Brooks the porgram was proceeded with a musicale. Prominent numbers were instrumental solos by Miss Anna Augsburger and vocal pieces by Mrs. Mary E. Platt. A paper of exceeding interest was furnished by Mrs. E. G. Pomroy of Louise street, on "Concord, Lexington and Bunker Hill."

This was followed by a talk on the "Literature of the Revolution," by Mrs. Tufts, the enthusiastic leader and president, who inspired the members into a close study of the period of the Revolution. Mrs. Tufts is a writer and student of history and literature of unusual ability and has been closely connected in times past with representative clubs in Massachusetts, such as the renowned Browning Society, the Dorchester Fortnightly Club, and others, being also for years an active member of the history class working in connection with general club work.

The various members of the present study club, of which Mrs. Tufts is organizer, have already demonstrated ability to combine talent with enthusiasm and are proud always to show guests and those interested in their work which is all original, it being one of the regulations that no outside talent be employed to fill in any study topic. The club is growing healthily and is composed of members drawn from the Brand Boulevard environs.

MONDAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

As is usual the third Monday was most charmingly observed by members of the Woman's Auxiliary during the hours of two until six at the Country Club house, Brand Boulevard. The September hostesses were Mrs. Walter C. Fraley, Mrs. Claude O. Pulliam, Mrs. Ray Chase and Miss Penn. After the reception hour whist was employed as the chief vehicle of amusement, eight tables being filled. First and second prizes were offered and the playing became earnest when it was realized the contest would be close. When the moment arrived to award the honors, six ladies had won seven games and five had [illegible] necessitating cutting for awards. The lucky ones were Mrs. Ella E. Kimball, handsome china pepper and salt set, and Mrs. C. F. Parker an artistic china hatpin holder, each article beautifully hand-painted by Mrs. Helen Fraser, as were the tally cards done in wild flowers of the East and West.

Delicious cheese straws, nut salad and English tea was served. The afternoon closed with four vocal numbers by the wonderful boy soloist, Master Vernon Bettin of Los Angeles, who is preparing to study abroad. He possesses a voice of remarkable range and timber and has sung with Ellen Beach Yaw. His "Spring Is Coming" and "Love Is a Sigh," were each followed by an encore. His brother, an accomplished organist, well known in Los Angeles, accompanied him. About fifty members and guests enjoyed the afternoon. Several were present from Los Angeles.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Wednesday marked the thirteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. V. Price Brown of Brand Boulevard, and thirty-six friends and neighbors, many of them from Los Angeles, helped celebrate in such a manner that the memory of the evening will long remain a most happy one. The charming home, housing always an air of genuine good cheer and hospitality, was made charmingly attractive with lovely blossoms and a myriad of lights. A happy feature of the evening were the numbers given by Mrs. Hinan, a graduate of Cumnock and a reader of decided ability. Whist employed the geater part of the evening and Prof. H. Howe was awarded the first prize, while to Mrs. Shaver of Los Angeles fell the consolation.

The discussion of a delicious collation closed the affairs of the evening.

THE EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS AT G. A. R. HALL.

Great Interest Manifested.

The interest in the meetings conducted by Rev. J. W. Utter of the Christian church at G. A. R. hall, has continued undiminished during the past week and services will be continued tomorrow (Sunday). About 75 people have expressed themselves as ready to place their names upon the church roles and the result will no doubt be to establish in Tropico or Glendale in the near future a church of the "Disciples of Christ" or "Christian Brethren." Prof. Stout, who has been singing at all the meetings, will be present Sunday morning. It will be decided on Sunday whether the meetings will be continued longer.

Local Happenings

Mrs. Charles Shattuck has completed a two weeks' visit to San Diego and vicinity.

Mrs. J. C. Danford of Belmont street has for her house guest an aunt, Mrs. T. N. Lakin of Vandalia, Ill., who is making her first visit to Glendale.

Marion Comstock, who is in attendance at the Fernando Academy, is paying an over-Sunday visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Comstock.

Mr. H. B. Eachus of the Central market was called to Red Bluff, Cal., on Wednesday, having received news of the death of his father at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. F. McG. Kelley have returned to their Glendale home on Verdugo Road and First street after spending the most of the summer in Los Angeles.

Mr. P. H. Bullis has gone to New York on pleasure and business intent. On his return he expects to visit all friends and relatives in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Mrs. Lillian Dow and daughter, Dorothy Dow, return on Thursday from Colorado, where they have been visiting old-time friends of Mrs. Dow's for several weeks past.

Mrs. P. H. Bullis and Mrs. Georgia Francis and children are for two weeks at Redondo, where they have a cottage. Among week-end guests entertained was Richard Stine.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mock returned Tuesday morning from a sea trip which took in San Diego and San Clemente Island. They were out about ten days in Mr. Mock's launch.

Mrs. H. M. Byram, Mrs. Sophia M. Galloway and Miss Ruth A. Byram left on Tuesday morning's steamer from San Pedro for a week's visit to San Diego. Mrs. Ellen T. Chase was to join them at their destination.

Mr. and Mrs. Barager, Cedar street, this week entertained as houseguests their relatives, Mrs. H. W. Goldsborough of Los Angeles and a nephew, Mr. Frank Goldsborough of Sioux City, Iowa, in this vicinity for the winter.

Cecil Gilson, employed in the Ganahl Lumber company's office here, has just returned from a visit of several days to Denver which he does not hesitate to pronounce an exceedingly fine place and the climate attractive because "the cold is real cold."

Mr. Howard M. Dow of Orange street on Sunday evening, entertained Mrs. Tufts and her son, Dr. Tufts, and Miss Anna Augsburger at dinner at the Vert Mont. The evening was filled in with reminiscences of Boston musical circles and several instrumental and vocal numbers were greatly enjoyed.

The Glendale Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Taylor on Mary street, Sept. 17th. Particularly interesting papers were read on the subjects of "The Battles of Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill" and "The Literature of the Revolutionary Period."

A little music and the discussion of current events filled the afternoon pleasantly. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Brooks, corner of Louise and First streets, Oct. 1.

Miss Anita Wells of Canyon Crest is home again, having enjoyed a trip extending throughout the East and covering several months. A visit was made to Oberlin, her alma mater, and to many places of interest.

The summer months were spent with relatives in Hartford, Conn. Many stop-overs were also enjoyed on the return trip. Some of the places visited were of historical interest, many of them closely connected with old family traditions.

The date palm tree in the front yard of Mrs. H. M. Byram's residence on Glendale avenue above Third street, is yielding its annual crop of dates. The fruit is much smaller than the ordinary date of commerce, but is a seedless variety and has the sweetness and other characteristics of that fruit. Although the tree can now be relied on for a small yield of fruit every year, the output is not such as to promise very remunerative returns from it as a crop.

Mrs. Folsom of Los Angeles was on Monday the guest of Mrs. Claude Pulliam. Other guests were Mrs. Bettin and her two sons of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Best of Fifth street, her son James and daughter, Miss Helen, are moving to Pasadena where Miss Best is filling a position in Throop Institute. Last year Miss Best was teacher of the second grade in Glendale Grammar school. She is a prominent member of Chapter L, P. E. O., and enjoys a wide popularity in social circles where she will be greatly missed. Her place is filled by Miss Maude Ravensburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sauer returned Monday morning from a summer's visit to their old home at Wahpeton, N. D. Mr. Sauer reports a hot summer in Dakota, but the farmers are prospering with wheat at a dollar, barley 50 cents and oats 45 cents. An early September frost did some damage. While spending two days in Duluth, the sun was invisible by reason of the dense clouds of smoke ascending from nearby forest fires which had caused great damage in some of the country passed through between Wahpeton and Duluth. Mr. and Mrs. Sauer are glad to be at home again in Glendale.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Opens on Monday. The new school building not being yet ready for occupancy it will be necessary to crowd all the pupils and teachers into the one building temporarily. Some changes are announced in the faculty. Miss Best, who taught the second grade last year and was very popular with the pupils, has resigned to accept a position at Throop university, Pasadena, in the primary department there. Miss Richards has concluded to remain in the East. Their places will be supplied by Miss Rivensburgh, who takes the second grade, and Miss Ahearn in the sixth. Miss Rivensburgh is a graduate of the New York Normal school and has had three or four years experience. Miss Ahearn has been teaching several years. Half-day sessions in the lower grades will be necessitated for three or four weeks.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The enrollment this year is 130 as against 100 last year. While the school is uncomfortably crowded teachers and pupils are making the best of it, encouraged by the fact that work has actually begun on the new High School building, or more literally the grounds. An orchestra has been organized which is to hold meetings every Tuesday at 3 p. m. The Boys and Girls Glee Club meets every Friday and the Girls' Chorus every Thursday. It has been arranged to join with the Polytechnic High of Los Angeles in giving concerts alternately in Los Angeles and Glendale.

The athletic association met Thursday afternoon.

The Juniors have decided to procure caps upon which the figures "10" will be worn.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A young man named Gates who was working on a hay shed at the dairy in West Glendale last Tuesday during one of those heavy gusts of wind that swept over the valley that afternoon, jumped from the roof as the structure began to topple over and fell between twenty and thirty feet. He was immediately taken to Dr. D. W. Hunt for treatment. He did not recover consciousnes until Wednesday morning and his condition is still serious.

There will be two preaching services in the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath. The morning sermon will have as its subject: "The Spirit of Christ," and the evening subject will be: "God's Good Wish for the World."

TENNIS TOURNEY BEGINS.

The second annual tennis tourney for the championship of San Fernando valley began Saturday morning at 8:30.

A few games were played off during the week owing to the very large number of entries and time consumed in the games. One set on Saturday morning, that played by Miss George and Miss Ellias of Tropico, occupied three hours.

The hardest contest and most brilliant playing was that of F. H. Oxnam and Stanton, the third and deciding set of their series going to 7-5.

The finals, will no doubt, be reached by Saturday when a large number of very handsome prizes will be awarded the winners. In the evening there will be a jolly dance at the club house for contestants and their enthusiastic friends. The entire affair is given under auspices of the Glendale Country Club. OPENING OF THE WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL.

The West Glendale school opens Monday, Oct. 5th, and the enrollment already gives promise of breaking all records for that district.

Mrs. Frank Taylor is hired as principal and she will also have full charge of the First and Second grades. Other teachers will be Miss Nellie Miller, Miss Hilda Ericson and possibly a fourth teacher will be hired owing to the unexpected number of pupils intending to report for attendance.

On the first day patrons and friends of the school will serve a fine dinner in the school building and an opportunity will be given to visit and inspect the various rooms. Later there will be appropriate exercises, patriotic songs and a flag-raising calculated to raise the enthusiasm, patriotism and civic pride in the hearts of the youngsters to the top notch.

The new flag is already purchased and is a beauty. Another gift to the children is a fine new piano, to be used not only for their enjoyment but in regular school work. Probably about the only work done on Monday will be assignment to classes and to seats.

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, Mrs. Taylor will call a teachers' meeting when new pupils will be granted their certificates of admission.

Mrs. A. L. Eves and sons of Orange Grove avenue, returned Friday of last week from a three weeks' visit to Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Worrall of Santa Clara.

PATERNALISM IN ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

In England it was noticed that many of the children in the public schools came to school without breakfast. As it was apparent that a hungry child could not study well, the experiment was tried in certain schools of providing breakfast for these unfortunates. The result was that the number of breakfastless children coming to school was considerably increased and it was found that parents who had formerly given their children some sort of a breakfast before sending them out in the morning to absorb knowledge, ceased altogether to provide a morning meal for them, depending upon the generosity of the school authorities to look after their offspring. This is a text for consideration by those cheerful theorists who believe in paternalism in government. The application is so self apparent that we need not dwell upon it.

THE COMING RAILROAD.

The city trustees having taken the final steps for the abandonment of Third street for the purpose of giving a right of way to a gasoline or electric motor car line from Eagle Rock into Glendale, and Mr. E. D. Goode having made the very fair proposition which we publish elsewhere, it only remains for our people to put up the very modest sum of $3500 to secure this road. There has never been a time in our history when a proposition has been put before us which for so small an expenditure promised such great returns. We need a road for the development of the eastern portion of our city and valley and we believe that this will be now secured. The next thing demanded by the community should be a cross valley road of some kind connecting east and west, the San Fernando road and Eagle Rock, or Verdugo road at least. Glendale stands at the crossways of progress; let us induce it to enter by every suggested avenue.

AS TO ONE PARTICULAR HOME INDUSTRY.

We had something to say last week about patronizing home industries. It seems not amiss in this connection to remind our people that the home newspaper depends upon their patronage for success and the people of the town who are doing business therein are dependent upon the newspaper more or less directly for many benefits received. This fact is not appreciated by all as it should be. Glendale is less loyal in this respect than are the majority of its neighbors, we believe. In many towns where there is only one newspaper, business, professional men and everybody who serves the public in any capacity, contributes more or less in advertising patronage to the local paper. We regret to state that a similar spirit does not seem to exist here so generally as it should. We want to do everything in our power to build up Glendale, but when our people borrow the local paper instead of subscribing for it, and give as an excuse for not subscribing that they "can't afford to take so many papers," or when they patronize the postoffice bulletin board instead of advertising in our columns, we cannot resist the conclusion that the one "home industry" in which we are directly interested does not receive the support that it should.

"THE BRUTE IN THE WHITE HOUSE."

A speaker at a public meeting in Glendale a few evenings ago, alluded to the president of the United States as the "brute in the White House." This sort of language applied to the president is an insult to the intelligence of any audience, even if they call themselves "Socialists."

It is an insult to the intelligence of an audience because of the apparent assumption of the speaker that the people he addresses are either ignorant or so blinded by prejudice that any charge made against the object of their disfavor will be accepted as true, if it be made with sufficiently venomous volubility. For which of his great accomplishments can Roosevelt be called brutal? He has made his place in history as the one man in all the world who has done most for the cause of peace. He put an end to the great coal strike which was settled through his intervention; he has been most earnest in his efforts to give to the Hague Peace congress the force which would make it the peaceful arbiter of the nations. But his greatest triumph in this direction was won when through his efforts, peace was brought about between Japan and Russia. Prof. Kovalevsky, of the University of St. Petersburg, after a careful examination of official documents, declares that fullest credit must be given to President Roosevelt for being instrumental in putting an end to the bloodiest war of modern times. For this achievement he was awarded the Nobel prize, which is given every year to the one individual who has done the most to advance the cause of universal peace. The proponents of the theory that an individual or a nation can best promote the cause of peace by refraining from the development of the power of self-protection, are fortunately for our country, not numerous enough to control affairs.

THE QUESTION OF PARKS.

Has any one heard anything about a park or parks for Glendale, lately? If we have that faith in our future growth and importance which we pretend to possess, there should be something doing in this direction. The problem becomes more difficult and expensive, the longer it is deferred and should be grappled with at once. There are at least three ways in which provisions can be made for a park. In the first place some public spirited citizen who has of land or money more than he requires for his present use and who would be glad to have the present and future generations rise up and call him blessed, can donate sufficient of one or both for the purpose.

Secondly, the same generous act may be performed by a number of citizens acting together for this purpose of contributing land, money or both. The third is an alternative, a bond issue. The first proposition will be the most popular; it would relieve the majority of all of the initial responsibility. But there is reason to doubt that the longed-for philanthropist will be heard from. Holders of land or money, as has been observed frequently, usually are firm in the opinion that they have no surplus; on the contrary, they generally want more. And it usually does not matter to them whether they are near the beginning or at the nethermost end of the span of life, they hold on as tenaciously in the one case as in the other. If Glendale is to be the recipient of a free park from any philanthropic citizen who is interested in seeing us grow, it is very desirable that he (or she) act promptly in the matter. As for a combination of public spirited individuals who will contribute money to secure a park site, or sites, this plan is entirely feasible. It has an advantage also, as contributors to the fund, it would be eminently proper that they be given the privilege of deciding upon location. Dollars should vote in this case, the contributor of $100, for instance, being allowed 100 votes. As for the bond issue, well, we shall want to hear from the philanthropists first—but give us parks!

The Republicans have much cause to be grateful to W. R. Hearst, who in his exposures of Senator Foraker and Gov. Haskell, Republican and Democrat respectively, injured not at all the cause of Mr. Taft, but left the friend and adviser of Mr. Bryan rather high in the air. It is sometimes a good thing to write letters, and the one published by President Roosevelt which Mr. Taft had written before the Ohio state convention met, and in which he refused to make any compromise with Foraker, redounds infinitely to the writer's credit.

DEDICATION OF THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY FAMILY.

Glendale's new Catholic church was dedicated at 3 p. m. last Sunday. The building has been rushed forward rapidly and although it is announced that it is only for temporary use, the front part of the lot being reserved for the more ambitious and permanent structure which will probably be erected in two or three years, it is yet a capacious and rather attractive building. The seating capacity on the main floor is about 180, with room for more pews to be added later, and the gallery will accomodate 100 more. The church was filled last Sunday afternoon upon the occasion of the dedication which was accompanied by all the pomp and ceremony which marks the dedication of much more pretentious places of worship. As stated by Archbishop Conaty in his very able dedicatory sermon, there was nothing omitted in the ceremony which would be used if the edifice were a cathedral instead of a simple church. The archbishop, clad in the gorgeous robes of his office and wearing a mitre, led the procession of priests around the church outside and then within, sprinkling holy water on the walls in the ceremony of blessing them, the procession moving solemnly in harmony with the musical chanting of the service.

The archbishop's sermon showed him to be a speaker of great force and eloquence; he exorted the faithful to be faithful still in loyal service to the apostolic church. In closing he expressed the thanks of the church to Miss Emeline Childs for her generous gift of land and to others who had contributed to the building of the church. He also expressed appreciation of the work of Father O'Neill for his earnest and very successful work in building up this parish.

A Recital will be given by Master Vernon Bettin on Saturday evening, October 3d, at Masonic Hall. This young gentleman is very well known to the people of our city, having sung for the Guild of St. Mark's Church some months ago and also before the Country Club. He has also appeared in concert work with Ellen Beach Yaw, who commends him very highly.

AT THE UNDERTAKERS.

Mr. Pullian, the local undertaker, has had a rather busy week, although none of the cases he has disposed of have been citizens of Glendale. Charles Markham, who was shot at Fernando last Saturday evening while engaged in a fracas with his brother, was buried at Forest Lawn Wednesday afternoon from the Glendale undertaking parlors. The body of Cornelius J. Consedine, who died at Monte Vista of tuberculosis, was shipped on Wednesday to his sister in New York city.

Ernest Scott, the young son of Charles Scott of Ivanhoe, who died of diphtherial croup, was buried at Forest Lawn on Monday.
